Madrid, January 13, N. S.

AN Expreſs arrived at Court three Days ago from the Count de las Torres General of the Spaniſh Army before Gibraltar, with an Account, that Colonel Kane Governour of that Place having obſerved his taking a View of it by Land, and alſo particularly from ſome Boats in the Bay, ſent him Compliments and let him know, that he (the Governour) did not fire upon them, conſidering that his Perſon might have been there, but warned him, that if they approached again it ſhould not be ſuffered; but that if he would ſatisfy his Curioſity, he (the Governour) would permit him to come into the Place with ſome few Officers, in order to be convinced of the Strength of the Fortifications; and that the Governour alſo ſent him ſome Preſents of all Sorts of Wines and ſome Refreſhments. By this Expreſs, who was diſpatched the 6th Inſtant from St. Roque, the ſaid Count de las Torres ſent Information to the King, that he having ſeveral Times viewed with all poſſible Exactneſs the Fortifications and Bay of Gibraltar, both by Sea and Land, found the Siege of that Place an Enterprize of much greater Difficulty than it had been repreſented to him, and that he did not find the neceſſary Preparations for Beginning ſuch a Work in the Readineſs he was promiſed. What Effect theſe Repreſentations have had upon his Catholick Majeſty, is not yet known; but it is believed the Siege will notwithſtanding be undertaken, and Hoſtilities commenced by the 20th Inſtant. Letters from Cadiz of the 7th Inſtant relate, that the Preparations for the Siege of Gibraltar were continued with all poſſible Diligence. All the Carpenters there were at Work, upon Tent Poles, and ſeveral Thouſands of Deal Boxes of about a Yard and half in Length, and half a Yard in Depth and Breadth, which are to be filled with Cork, in order to defend the Men from ſmall Shot upon their Approaches. But as they find it very difficult from the Badneſs of the Roads to ſend every thing by Land, as at firſt intended, it was now reſolved, that only the Braſs Artillery ſhall go that Way, and they were hiring Merchant Ships to carry the Iron Cannon, Mortars, Bombs, and Balls. And yet notwithſtanding the great and perpetual Hurry they had been in Day and Night for three Weeks, there was not any one Thing yet ſent away. Only Three or Four of the Cannon had got as far as the Iſland, which is about two Leagues from Cadiz.
